The Pastoral Perspective

By the time you read this, Advent will have already started. The clock will be ticking, the sands running to the bottom of the hourglass, as we make our way to Christmas. The days will be filled with various gatherings, end-of-year work responsibilities, present purchasing and wrapping, and visits with family and friends, all accompanied by, honestly, an occasionally deep yearning for just more time, although I know the calendar is set and the number of days fixed. For many, perhaps most, ministers Advent is the busiest—and most stressful—time of year. I'd be lying if I didn't admit to sometimes being amongst this cohort. The services need to take place, the meetings need to be attended, stuff has to be done, and, well, you get the picture.

Yet...

This is still one of the most beautiful times of the year. As I write this, a gentle blanket of snow has covered the Upper Valley, giving everything an appropriate seasonal aura, and we now seem to be in a new season. It is also incredibly special in large part because of what's to come. We seem to be on the cusp of something, something big. Perhaps you sense this too. We Christians believe that the big event in the offing is the imminent arrival of the Christ-child, which we will celebrate later this month.

It doesn't matter that he's already here, that his birth took place two millennia ago and 4,000 miles away. It doesn't matter that he left us the Holy Spirit on Pentecost Sunday, after he was crucified and resurrected. Simply put, God's time does not work like ours. Jesus has come, will come, and, we profess, is coming, very, very soon.

So while we will rejoice in song and pageant about Jesus' long-ago nativity, we will experience his birth as if for the first time. And as with any newborn's arrival, the possibilities will seem endless and the potential limitless. In this baby, our hopes and dreams will be fulfilled in so many marvelous ways, even if we don't recognize what has happened.

We know what Jesus did for us—and what he is doing now. His birth was part of history. But our history is a story that is still being written,

COMMITTEE NOTES

BOARD OF GOVERNORS

The Board of Governors will discuss fire safety procedure in conjunction with our November fire drill. The group prefers to keep the process simple, deciding not to designate a “sweeper” to clear areas because of possible liability and the need to train and equip such a person. For drill purposes Steve Silver, as pastor, will be the one to inform everyone that it’s safe to return to the building. Further recommendations will be made in response to the drill.

The Board also discussed ongoing insulation projects in the kitchen exhaust system, Sanctuary ceiling, and dirt cellar. Wayne Braley will be hired to do much of this work, in collaboration with others on the Board. Wayne will also install the new railings on the chancel steps.

We continue to assess the condition of the front portico, including the new finish on the decking and rust staining on some of the facade and columns. The Board will ensure that entrances are safe through the winter with mats, ice-melt, and other usual measures; we will again provide for snow and ice removal around the property.

Among other projects, the carpets downstairs, in the office stairwell, and in the Parlor have been cleaned professionally. It has been hard to correlate our paint registry with colors throughout the building. A review of storage space confirmed that the Scouts should have enough space in their balcony room for all their needs. And the Board will be considering several minor issues of landscaping for the spring.

CHURCH COUNCIL

Nan Parsons reported to Council in November on current activities in the Children’s Community Corner. The children have had a yoga meditation session and are planning field trips to Riverbank Church and different theatrical productions. Nan commended and thanked Ashley Oronte for her excellent work and support during these months of transition in the program. She invited everyone to an open house in the CCC space for coffee hour on December 8.

In his pastor’s report the Rev. Steve Silver noted that we hope to produce a new welcome brochure during Advent. There was brief discussion about its contents and what needed to be updated from the previous version. Some asked whether we’d consider producing a new church directory at some point as well; the current edition was published in 2016, and the next version could be a streamlined, in-house production.

Steve has also begun to explore how we might reconfigure our committee and governance structure, in recent conversations with colleagues at churches that have engaged in a similar restructuring. Steve stressed this would be a long, deliberative process, but we’ve considered this issue for several years already.

Steve thanked the congregation for a successful fire drill November 17, which revealed only some minor aspects of our safety plan that could be refined (technical connections with the fire department and the need to call 911 as part of the drill).

With our ecumenical Thanksgiving service coming on November 25 at Greater Hartford United Church, Steve encouraged participation by FCC members in ecumenical events more generally.

Approaching Stewardship Sunday, it is hoped that the congregation will fully participate in pledging for 2020, regardless of amount. Jon Scott invites committee chairs to lead the way in making pledges. As Council approved last month, campaign planning is progressing toward a launch at Annual Meeting.

Valerie Nevel reported that the Finance Committee won’t meet until after the Thanksgiving holiday, but she noted that the year’s market success has been very good for our endowment portfolio. Steve recently attended a board meeting of the UCF, which manages a portion of our investments.

John Gilliatt reported for the Board of Governors that the altar railing installation will now happen after the New Year, due to some schedule issues. The Parsonage energy audit was completed in October, and the Board is considering what actions might be taken in response. John is also interested in hearing feedback about the fire drill.

Council briefly discussed coffee hour duties and our longstanding monthly rotation of those duties. Corrine Erskine has drafted some guidelines in hopes of encouraging more people to take on this weekly role, but it was generally agreed that we should be careful not to impose too high a standard or expectation for what's provided. (Please contact the church office for a copy of Corrine's guidelines, or if you'd like to volunteer for a Sunday!)

Lastly, Steve Silver noted that the Mission and Social Action account, used for community assistance for rent, utilities, and other needs, was running low on funds. Council approved a distribution from the Dole Trust. A discussion followed about our mission partnerships with organizations such as WISE and Second Growth, which have sometimes involved financial support. No reauthorization of those partnerships is required, but it was suggested that we contact our current partners to determine how FCC can best help them now.

DIACONATE

At their November meeting the Deacons discussed funds for food and gas cards, approving another bulk purchase of each for the Open Door Ministry. They also reflected on the work that Nan Parsons and others have done with the Children's Community Corner, particularly the increased involvement of kids in worship. As with adult liturgists, they should be encouraged to speak clearly and use the microphone. Deacons were encouraged to visit downstairs during worship. They

Doing Good, Sharing Gifts: Stewardship and Our Faith

“Do not neglect to do good and to share what you have, for such sacrifices are pleasing to God.”

As Hebrews 13:16 reminds us, when we participate in Stewardship with our time, skills, and resources, we are not just being philanthropic or community-minded—we are making a sacrifice. When the Israelites presented their offerings at the temple, they were engaged in worship, as we are when we make our pledges each fall. Let our sacred, holy work please the Lord as we strive to better the world.

We are grateful to have received 24 pledges so far for the coming year! Regardless of the size of your pledge, your participation is vital to our plans for 2020. Please prayerfully consider your commitment to FCC's mission and ministry, and thanks for your faithful stewardship!

Offering envelopes for 2020 are available in the Parish Hall. Once you've submitted a pledge form, please take whichever box you wish and record it on the list.

CONTENT FOR THE 2019 ANNUAL REPORT must be submitted to the Church Administrator by Monday, January 6, 2020

Which Offering Is Which?

Our stewardship effort asks us to consider a variety of offering collections throughout the year. Each offering serves a distinct purpose:

Regular offering—Collected every Sunday, and treated as unrestricted support for FCC's general operations, ministries, and programs. This includes all pledges and payments in our annual stewardship effort.

Communion offering—Collected on the first Sunday of each month, directly funding our Open Door Ministry for community assistance (gas/grocery cards) or, occasionally, designated for some other mission need. Any contribution in a communion envelope goes to this fund.

Special UCC offerings (e.g., One Great Hour of Sharing, Strengthen the Church, Neighbors in Need, and Christmas Fund)—Each collected once annually, as part of a national campaign for a particular mission or service cause.

No matter which envelopes we use,
THANKS TO ALL for so generously and consistently supporting these diverse purposes, at FCC and far beyond!

COMMITTEE NOTES

also affirmed our choice in recent years to keep rear entrances of the building unlocked.

Steve Silver in his pastor's report appreciated the large contingent from FCC at UVIP's Micah Award event. He noted that four people were engaged in the Simply Christian book study. He and the Deacons have reviewed and revised material for new welcome brochures, to be produced for Advent; the Deacons were encouraged to think about other possible ways in which pew cards could reach worshipers.

The Diaconate continues to review our membership rolls in advance of the next Annual Meeting, along with consideration of possible new Deacons. We are also examining our volunteer roles and committee structure with regard to the size and capabilities of our congregation.

The Deacons also discussed how we refer to the various sections of the Bible, keeping in mind important differences in Jewish and Christian traditions. The "Hebrew Bible" and "Old Testament," for example, are not interchangeable terms or equivalent collections of scripture. The group decided simply to list scripture lessons in the worship bulletin without designating their Biblical sections.

Reviewing community connections, it was reported that the City of Lebanon will fund a part-time VNA coordinator for the Community Nursing program, which currently carries a caseload of 65 clients. It was also suggested that we try to offer our Community Dinner more directly to families with children.

FCC's Shopping Cart for Hunger

Many thanks to all who have so generously filled our shopping cart each month, in support of Listen, the Haven, and the UV Humane Society. Thanks also to Kathy Beckett and others on the MSA Committee and Diaconate for delivering all the donations!

Thanks for helping to fight local poverty and hunger!

From Church Council and the Nominating Committee

Volunteer Opportunities Available

Have you found an ideal service opportunity for yourself at FCC? Are you interested in a particular program or committee? Do you have creative ideas for aspects of congregational life or governance?

We want to know!

As we approach a new year and a new term for FCC's volunteer committees, Church Council and the Nominating Committee ask you to consider how you might best contribute your skills, interests, and energy to the church's operations, ministries, and mission.

If you're interested in learning more about a committee or available opportunities for service and ministry, please contact the church office or Amy Driscoll (603-448-0976 or amykdriscoll@gmail.com).

not by impersonal historical forces but the Author of Everything, the Almighty, Loving God, who has chosen us to be his beloved people.

So let's live into this moment, let's be caught up in the wonder of the season. Let's take a few moments to reflect but also to be joyful. And let's set aside the ephemera that clamor for our attention in the present and focus on the amazing thing that the Lord has done for us, in and through an infant who was and will be born in Bethlehem.

Yours faithfully,

Steve
