The Pastoral Perspective

In case you haven't noticed, there's a lot of odd stuff going on out there. Our state seems to attract its share of the off-beat—as Greg Moore, a Republican political operative unaffiliated with any ongoing campaign, recently described New Hampshire, “We’re not a red state, we’re not a blue state, we’re a weird state.”

You might wonder what has prompted this rumination. Well, I need to acknowledge our NH Conference of the UCC, which called to the attention of its weekly newsletter recipients a list that the Free State movement recently compiled, identifying allegedly “woke” churches in the Granite State.

Now, my understanding is that when you want people to know what you've said, you don't hide it, so I thought I could easily find this list of so-called “woke” faith communities with a simple Google search. Sadly, it wasn't so easy, and I had to do some serious digging on Twitter to find this “resource.” But I did, and after scrolling the list, I learned that we were there, which I'd expected given our affiliation with the UCC. And First Congregational Church of Lebanon is not alone; I quickly found our cohorts at the West Lebanon Congregational Church, along with those in Meriden and Hanover. Just to be ecumenical in my search, I also found the Lebanon United Methodist Church.

According to the Oxford English Dictionary, the original meaning of woke was “well-informed, up-to-date,” which then evolved to “alert to racial or social discrimination and injustice.” The Urban Dictionary, meanwhile, explains that “being woke means being aware..., knowing what's going on in the community (related to racism and social injustice).” Woke has become a loaded term, and frankly, I'd just as soon stay away from the label, especially as it has been woefully misapplied. To some, woke indicates that one is a socialist or a Marxist, but I am neither of those things and never have been.

But, if woke simply means being decent—if it means inviting all of God's children into our midst, laying out the welcome mat for all people, indicating support for Ukraine, or making other similar gestures—then I guess I'm guilty of being woke. And I hope you are, too.

SUNDAY SERVICE

SEPTEMBER 11—10:00 AM KICK-OFF SUNDAY!

Come share our annual inauguration of a new year for the Children's Community Corner! We are still working out some details, but we look forward to supporting FCC's kids as they start the school year. Still no bouncy house this year—but we'll bless backpacks and enjoy food and fun outside after worship. Plan to join us!

Spend Some Time in the Corner!

The Children's Community Corner, that is! We'd like to involve more of our congregation's adults in engaging with FCC's great kids on Sunday mornings. Volunteers will support the great work Nan Parsons and Ashley Oronte have done with our children.

Our purpose for this interaction is mentorship, not just supervision. Please consider offering your time to our young people—thanks!

If you're interested in volunteering or other ways to help, contact Nan Parsons directly at nlp3721@yahoo.com or 603-863-8354.

A CELEBRATION OF THE LIFE OF Carolyn Barker Bassett (1933-2022)
SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, AT 10:00 AM

All Are Welcome to Worship at FCC Sundays at 10:00 am (Sanctuary/Zoom)

In-person worshipers are required to wear masks and observe distancing in the pews; we've not yet resumed regular coffee hour. Contact the church office with questions, or to receive the Zoom link.

Greeters and Liturgists Needed!

Congregation members sing in the choir, serve as ushers and Zoom greeters, and read as liturgists. Additional options include reading prayers, sharing stewardship messages, or even leading children's moments. All are invited to serve in these essential roles, and no prior experience is needed (though Zoom greeting requires some basic training).

If you're interested in these opportunities to serve, please contact the church office.

Neighbors in Need: Behold!—Special UCC Mission Offering This Fall

Neighbors in Need supports ministries of justice and compassion across the US. Two-thirds of the collection funds the UCC's Justice and Witness Ministries for local and national initiatives, advocacy efforts, and the fight against systemic injustice. The rest goes to the Council for American Indian Ministry, the voice for Native Americans in the UCC, sustaining a proud denominational tradition of assisting Native groups.

This year, NIN is focused on economic justice, amidst severe inflation and other challenges facing households nationwide.

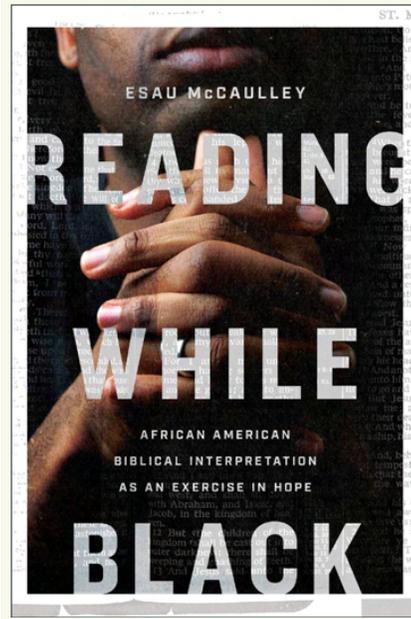

Please contribute as you are able, either payable to FCC (memo "NIN") or online at ucc.org/nin.

READING WHILE BLACK

Weekly Book Group Starts October 5 on Zoom

All are invited to join a weekly online discussion group exploring Esau McCaulley's Reading While Black: African American Biblical Interpretation as an Exercise in Hope (2020). Prof. McCaulley, who is on the faculty of Wheaton College, is a Black Christian who has a powerful story to tell, and his book leads us to look at Scripture with fresh eyes. We'll discuss the book for seven Wednesdays on Zoom, beginning October 5.

Discussions will be Wednesdays at 7:00 pm on Zoom, starting October 5. Books provided free of charge, but you must reserve a copy by September 21. To RSVP or ask questions, please contact Rev. Steve Silver at silver@fcclcb.org or 603-448-4281.

NHC-UCC ANNUAL MEETING 2022

All are invited—lay or ordained leaders, congregation members, friends, visitors—to participate in the 221st Annual Meeting of the NH Conference of the UCC. The theme is inspired by Psalms 40 and 96: “O sing to the Lord a new song; sing to the Lord, all the earth.” The keynote speaker is musician and composer Richard Bruxvoort Colligan, who teaches across denominations about music and spiritual formation. He’s currently immersed in a long-term study of the Psalms.

Sing a New Song

Saturday, October 15 (Register by 9/26)
Grappone Conference Center, Concord

In addition to worship, the business meeting, and other plenary events on October 15, optional connecting sessions run online from September 29 through October 19. For complete details and schedule, visit the NH Conference meeting webpage—www.nhcucc.org/conference-ministries/2022-annual-meeting.

FCC will pay for up to four delegates to attend (either in person or via Zoom); registration is open until midnight Monday, September 26. If you're interested, please contact the church office.

Of course, what I really hope is that we are all committed to following the Way of Jesus, regardless of what some folks say online. If hanging a banner over our door expressing our welcome of immigrants and refugees or having a discreet rainbow stripe on our sign in the church yard ticks some people off, that’s their problem, not mine. I take satisfaction in the way our signs have been seen by our community as a statement. The positive feedback I have received has made me proud of this congregation. Our church has taken a stand, not for the sake of being woke, but as proud citizens of the kingdom of God.

I think that’s a good thing to be known for, don’t you?

Yours faithfully, Steve

OUR MISSION NEAR AND FAR

Support LISTEN'S Harvest Match Donations Welcome by September 27

As Greater Lebanon continues to struggle with food insecurity, rising costs, and other persistent challenges, FCC strives to support the work of all our local social-service organizations.

This month, in lieu of the usual food donations to our shopping cart, we are asking for financial contributions for LISTEN Community Services' Harvest Match. A generous donor has offered LISTEN this $25,000 matching gift in September in support of its food programs.

Please consider contributing any amount by cash or check (payable FCC, memo "Harvest Match") by September 27, and we'll send LISTEN the total by the end of the month.

The 2022 Lebanon CROP Walk

Sunday, October 9, at 12:30 pm

Begun in 1969 as a single walk in Bismarck, ND, the CROP Hunger Walk has long been a national project run by Church World Service. Happening year-round, CROP Walks across the country raise about $9 million annually to fight food insecurity and poverty worldwide.

This year's walk will once again happen in person, and all are welcome to walk. Contributions should be made online (not through FCC).

FCC will offer light food and refreshments to all participants on the front lawn, renewing our long tradition of post-walk fellowship and hospitality.

YOU can help in any or all of these ways...

Walk!—Walk on your own or gather a small group of family or friends.

Serve!—Contribute food or help with post-walk fellowship (details TBD).

Donate!—Sponsor an individual walker, or give online at crophungerwalk.org/.

www.crophungerwalk.org

Questions? Contact the church office or visit www.crophungerwalk.org.

OUR MISSION NEAR AND FAR

SUMMERTIME WORSHIP (previous page). After deacon Chris Chase preached on August 14, Steve Silver returned from vacation and rewarding study leave to lead two weeks of outdoor worship—with good ol’ coffee hour afterward!

CAMP-ICOPIA! Dan Weiser and Elizabeth Borowsky brought in Elizabeth’s siblings Emmanuel (violin) and Frances (cello) and conductor (and saw virtuoso) Glee Charlestream for a vibrant week of camp with 20 fine young musicians.

Meet Our Epilogos Students!

Sara

Gabriela

Each year half of our Lenten Lunch Bag collection funds scholarships through Epilogos Charities, serving the town and school of San Jose Villanueva, El Salvador. (The other half supports WISE of the Upper Valley.) FCC’s 2021 donation has been helping two students—Sara Meléndez has just finished 10th grade, while Gabriela Stefany has now made it to her senior year. Congratulations to both!

Thanks for so generously supporting this important relationship each year! For more information about Epilogos Charities, please visit www.epilogos.org.
