All are welcome, admission is free, inspiration is priceless!

Suzuki Royal Oak Institute of Music is a non-profit community music school founded in 1991 by its present Executive Director, Mark Mutter. The school has expanded to include 12 teachers providing instruction in violin, viola, cello, classical guitar, and piano. SRO has an enrollment of over 170 students ages 3-18 from around Metro Detroit, and also welcomes adults for private study.

SRO students study with a private teacher as well as in a group class, and have additional opportunities for music theory, chamber music and orchestra. Students also perform regularly in individual recitals, group concerts, and performances in the community such as Noel Night and Arts, Beats and Eats. Our advanced Tour Group has performed in Disney World, England, Austria, The Czech Republic, Italy, Greece, Canada, Spain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands, Germany, Ireland, Finland, Estonia and Russia, as well as an appearance at Carnegie Hall.
